ILLIONS OF WARRIOR AWAIT ORDER TO MARCH

Peace of Europe Seems Again to be Hanging on Slender Thread.

Berlin and St. Petersburg Deny That Complications are Likely to Erupt from the Differences Between Austria and Servia Over a Seaport—Turks Severely Worsted in Another Clash With the Bulgarians.

BY PAUL LANGRISH.

ATLANTIC CABLE BY WIRELESS OVERLAND TO THE TIMES.]
LONDON, Nov. 25.—The "dogs of war" are straining on the leash. Each of the great powers either is in full war footing or is placed in the position as quickly as it can. Six or seven million fighters either are now ready or are in place in readiness to take the field when the order is given.

SIGNS OF TENSION.

There are some signs that the tension is lessening and it is possible that the forces which are making peace may be able yet to prevent such a conflict as a mountain feud to the side of Gettysburg.

The general opinion is that he will give Austria a free hand, which means no or a complete breakdown on the part of Servia. The next week or two will probably tell the tale.

The war is in a fair way of settlement unless the allies demand too much.

News comes today from Berlin which at first glance made appear that Servia is weakening to the effect that the little kingdom would be willing to make objection to an autonomous government in Albania provided it was given an Adriatic port of access to it. The apparent situation is not so far as Austria is concerned. As it appears here there does not care "suppose" a free Albania. Her efforts are to secure Servia getting access to the sea.

The free Albania cry is used to secure the public opinion of the world to her side.

Let prevent the loss of all chance of an eastern shore line in the name that she is making her intentions on the Servian frontier and in Macedonia and Servia, and not to

TAFT ADMINISTRATION NOTED FOR ITS BRIDES.

BY WIRELESS LINE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Nov. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The bride's administration thus will remember the services of President Taft. No other President ever honored so many weddings with his presence. Mr. and Mrs. Taft last Friday attended the wedding of Miss Ethel Ridgley to Dr. Thomas P. Parker at the home of the bride's grandfather, Senator Shelby M. Cullom of Illinois, who was celebrating his eighty-third birthday. The President will be present to-morrow at the wedding of Miss Laura Merriam to James F. Curtis of Boston, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury.

On Thanksgiving the President and Mrs. Taft will attend the wedding of Miss Alice Gates Housell, daughter of Henry G. Housell of Chicago, American Minister to Switzerland, to John Brooks Judah of Boston.

President Taft will attend his wedding and carry away a bit of the cake.

President and Mrs. Taft, who are very fond of young people, paid a prospective bride much attention. During the last holiday season they did Miss Mary Sutherland, daughter of Rear-Admiral and Mrs. W. H. H. Sutherland, now Mrs. Louis Bacon of Boston, the unusual honor of giving a dinner for her.

The President afterward attended her wedding to Mr. Bacon. Last spring he attended the wedding of Mrs. Oliver Cromwell to E. T. Stotsbury of Philadelphia.

SOCIALISTS TO RESIST WARFARE

International Congress at Basel Declares Itself.

Urge Followers in Several Countries to Unite.

English and German Hostility Called a Menace.

(BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.)
BASEL (Switzerland) Nov. 25.—Socialists of America and Europe were called on by a manifesto issued today by the International Socialist Congress to resist any measures for war taken by their government. The declaration was drawn up by Jean Jaures, the leader of the French Socialists.

The document says that if the Balkan war should spread it would be one of the greatest scandals in history because of the disproportion between the immensity of the catastrophe and the insignificance of the interests on which it would be based. Therefore the Socialists in the Balkans should hasten the end of the war, those in Austria-Hungary should oppose any contemplated attack upon Serbia, and in Italy should prevent the ambitions of Albania to Italian ambitions and those in England, France and Germany should force their governments to refuse any help to Austria-Hungary and Russia should guard absolute neutrality.

The general call to the peace of Europe, the document points out, is the artificially supported hostility between England and Germany. Socialists in both these countries should destroy this feeling by practical and energetic propaganda.

The manifesto issued a resolution to hold anti-war meetings in the big cities of Europe on December 15.

Expressing whole-hearted approval of the manifesto, Hahn, the German Socialist leader, said it was the first and most important step toward the Socialists to carry on a strong campaign for universal peace. He said it would be a crime to engage in war merely that Serbia should not have an Adriatic port, and the German democracy was fully prepared effectively to cry halt to the government if it allowed itself to be dragged in.

The manifesto was unanimously adopted amid great enthusiasm.

BULGARIA ON BRINK OF RUIN SAYS BERLIN.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE, BY WIRELESS OVERLAND TO THE TIMES.)

BERLIN, Nov. 25. (Special Dispatch.)—The correspondent of the Frankfurter Zeitung telegraphs the following, which he says has come from the headquarters of the Bulgarian army:

"The position of the Bulgarian army is exceedingly precarious. Bulgaria has made comprehensive arrangements for forcing her advance on Kirk-Kaleish to the utmost possible degree and with gigantic brutality, shrank from no sacrifice of life in her efforts to gain Macedonia into her hands, but at the same time never counted upon her audacious coup bringing her to the gates of Constantinople.

Now, having lost almost all of her younger troops, among them the flower of her academically-trained intelligence, and having to battle almost as vigorously with the difficulties of the communistic and epidemic as with the Turks, she is threatened with collapse before the final obstacle.

"The enormous sacrifice of leaders is beginning to affect the leadership. The possibility that, in spite of the strictest censorship, news of the monstrous sacrifices might reach Sofia prematurely, is causing uneasiness to the chief of command which has led to fear the worst if the Turks should succeed in capturing the large masses of troops which are still available in Asia and exploit her advantage; for she is able to satisfy all the immediate requirements at Techartside out of her ample supplies of ammunition, whereas the Bulgarians need nearly a week to convey to the front material for a single day's fighting.

"If the offensive spirit has not become extinct in the Turkish army surprising changes in the fortunes of war are to be looked for.

The Austro-Hungarian mobilization is to be expected to dispose of 1,200,000 men out of her total war strength of 2,800,000.

Russia's war strength is 5,000,000, of which her present mobilization scheme affects two-thirds.

Italy had already mobilized 500,000 in connection with her African campaign.

Germany's peace establishment is 650,000 men, and her mobilization scheme brings her up to 1,300,000 out of a total of 4,000,000.

These estimates are for exports from the continent, which have been officially denied, but official data in such cases are not usually credited.

COUNCIL OF WAR BY MONTENEGRINS.

(BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.)

RIEKA (Montenegro) Nov. 25.—A prolonged council of war was held here today. King Nicholas presided and the Bulgarian Minister was in attendance. Important decisions were taken with respect to future operations against Scutari.

Gen. Vukovich will take command of the Montenegrin center.

Gen. Martinovitch, who attended the council, left immediately for the Montenegrin positions near Taranto to continue energetic operations.

ALBANIA'S FUTURE KING.

Prince Victor Napoleon Reported Likely to be Named Sovereign of New State.

(BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.)

PARIS, Nov. 25.—Reports are current in Bonapartist circles that Prince Victor Napoleon, cousin of King Victor Emmanuel, will be named as sovereign of the future State of Albania. It is said that with the support of Austria, Italy has secured the Prince's candidacy and that King Ferdinand of Bulgaria approves it. These reports, however, lack confirmation. of the Servians and Bulgarians with Russia. This is, he says, a phantom.

"It seems to me that Austria's policy over the Adriatic question drives her to the mills of the pan-Slavists. A liberal Adriatic policy on the part of Austria would satisfy the Servians and the Bulgarians notwithstanding their formal claim for fifty kilometers on the Albanian shores of the Adriatic, which would be applauded by all Slavs of the dual monarchy and save Europe from a terrible catastrophe." By adopting such a political line she would without war secure for herself great material and political victory and the Servians notwithstanding their formal claim for fifty kilometers on the Albanian shores of the Adriatic, which would probably be satisfied with what should be possible for her to attain in present circumstances without plunging immediately into a destructive war.

The result of which is that Servia should be appalled by all Slavs of the dual monarchy and save Europe from a terrible catastrophe.

JUDGE QUINN IN CHARGE. The jury in the case did not warrant a first-degree verdict.

If guilty the verdict, he said, must be second degree murder. Caruso may be found guilty of first-degree murder, but none of the defendants under the form of indictment could be adjudged guilty of manslaughter.

Giovannitti's attention was called to a Rome dispatch that the Socialist union had proclaimed his candidacy for the Chamber of Deputies from the constituency of Carpita.

"That is very fine of them," said Giovannitti, "but I couldn't be elected because I am not old enough. One must be 32 years of age and I'm only 23."

THE CHARGE. In beginning the charge to the jury Judge Quinn described the case as one of "momentous importance."

From what he had observed of the jurors in the box the judge declared he was sure their verdict would be reached "without any feeling of sympathy or prejudice and without regard to the consequence that may attach to a verdict."

The Commonwealth, the court said, was tender with defendants at the bar, seeking no victims and demanding no sacrifice. A false verdict against the prisoners would be no greater wrong than the defendants themselves would also wrong the community."

"Proof," said the court, "does not mean proof to a mathematical demonstration but this case must not be left to surmise, conjecture and query."

Judge Quinn outlined the charges against the defendants, the participation in the riot in which Anna Lopez was killed and inciting violence by Ettor and Giovannitti. The complaint of the working people of Lawrence against their employers could not be considered in this case, he said.

The riot of January 29, in Lawrence, in which the woman met her death, was discussed, the court ruling that it was not to be determined whether it was caused by tumultuous strife," said the court.

"All who participated in such riots where murder occurs are principals to the crime. It is for you to determine if a riot occurred and if Caruso was there."

murder in the first degree, the court declared it must be proven that he premeditated killing Officer Benelli, whom he stabbed, and on whom his confederate fired the shot which went wild and killed the Lopez woman.

The question to be determined with relation to Ettor and Giovannitti, the court declared, was whether their speeches to the strikers had incited Caruso or others to the riot which ended with the Lopez woman.

The defendants, he said, were not on trial for their views. There was no question of the right of free speech, with the exception that it must not incite to lawlessness or violence.

He said also that the jury should consider the matter of the planting of dynamite, and whether the belief that the mill owners had planted the dynamite to prejudice the strikers drove them to violence.

Judge Quinn gave the additional information that it was found a rifle occurred on January 29 and Anna Lopez lost her life therein, "it is murder."

"The evidence relating to these two defendants," said the court, "does not warrant conviction for murder in the first degree, because it is not contended that either premeditated the death of any one."

For Caruso, the instructions did not preclude the electric chair. Should the jury find him guilty of participation in the fatal riot, the court charged, it might find him guilty of murder in the first or second degree.

A hopeful instruction for the prisoner, however, was that the jury in order to adjudge him guilty of first-

Four Counties Outstanding.

Griffin Has Big Plurality Over Lieutenant-Governor.

Democrats Defend the Plea to Recount the Vote.

Declare That in Los Angeles Tally Is Not Certified.

(By A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 25.—With four counties outstanding—Los Angeles, Alameda, Yolo and Modoc—the official count by the Secretary of State tonight for Presidential electors showed Griffin's plurality over Wallace to be 24,702.

Griffin's vote with the four counties out was 292,161. Wallace's vote was 175,456.

The plurality of the lowest Democratic elector, George M. Cooley, over M. C. Luce, the lowest Progressive, was 26,194. Cooley's vote was 193,321 and Luce's 173,127.

These figures show Wallace and Griffin to have run approximately 2139 and 2350 ahead of the other two electors respectively on their tickets. While the returns from all the counties are in it is anticipated Griffin's will be about $600 more than Cooley's and Wallace's approximately 3700 more than Luce's.

Nine counties were audited today—Butte, Del Norte, Humboldt, Kern, Mendocino, Riverside, San Diego and Santa Clara. The corrected totals of Inyo and Modoc counties, differing slightly from the county canvass, have been taken, but are not given out. They will be available tomorrow. The lists are not being sent back, but corrections are made by telegraph.

FOR A RECOUNT.

The Democrats have already presented portions of their defense to the petitions for recounts in Sacramento and San Joaquin county, which will be filed tomorrow. They will reply that in the Los Angeles case the canvass had not been certified and a decision delayed a record time will nullify the Sacramento and San Joaquin counts, however, it will be alleged the official certification has been made by the Board of Supervisors to the County Clerk and there can be no writ-issued.

CROWDS THERE.

Hundreds of friends and sympathizers of the defendants were in Sacramento today walking the streets near the Courthouse until long after dark. One man, who refused to move from the Courtroom, was arrested and held in custody while the police was locked in the charge of obstructing the sidewalk. His arrest did not appear to anger the crowd and there was no demonstration when the prisoner was taken away.

ATTACKS POWER OF MR. FISHER.

San Franciscans Push Plant in Washington.

Mayor Rolph Says City Will Accept His Ruling.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—Representatives of the leading national organizations for the preservation of national parks and scenic beauties were present today at the opening of the hearing before Secretary Fisher, involving San Francisco's right to use the Hetch-Hetchy Valley in Yosemite National Park as a reservoir for its water supply system.

The hearing in which the advisory board of army engineers sat with Secretary Fisher, was based upon Secretary Ballinger's order of nearly three years ago, directing the San Francisco officials to show cause why Secretary Garfield's permit of 1888 should not be renewed. The Garfield permit was based on stipulations to be made by the city, that it would first develop the Lake Eleanor water supply before beginning in the Hetch-Hetchy Valley.

SAN FRANCISCANS PRESENT.

At the hearing today were Mayor Rolph, former Mayor Phelan, City Attorney Long and other representatives of San Francisco; President Horace McFarland and Secretary D. R. Warren of the American Civic Association; G. A. Whittier, Boston, Dr. William F. Bell of Boston, and Miss Cosie Fay of Boston, representing the Society for the Preservation of Large Numbers Through Washington Ready for Session.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—Downs of Congressmen, the advance guard of the influx to Washington that will continue from now until next Monday when the last session of the Sixty-third Congress begins, arrived today.

Chairman Clark of the Judiciary Committee called a meeting for Wednesday of the House managers who will prosecute the impeachment charges against Judge Archbold of the Supreme Court. It is expected the trial will be concluded by the Christmas adjournment.

Representative Sparkman of Florida, chairman of the House Rivers and Harbors Committee, called a meeting of his committee for Wednesday. The committee, which it is believed will consist of the army engineers for $40,000,000 of river and harbor improvement and it is believed the bill will total about $50,000,000 as reported to the House.

United Labor Leader Unable to Attend Building Trades' Convention Because of Illness.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Nov. 25.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, was compelled to give up other portions of the Yosemite National Park without spelling the camel ought not to be allowed to put his head in the tent."

THE POINTS AT ISSUE.

Secretary Fisher defined the points at issue as:

Whether San Francisco had another practicable source of water supply and whether, through giving the use of the Hetch-Hetchy Valley, the government could be induced to be compelled to give up other portions of the Yosemite National Park to protect the water supply from contamination.

City Attorney Long of San Francisco declared the project would not interfere with the use of the valley for park uses with tourist privileges.

Mayor Rolph and others said the project would furnish the water for all the communities on both sides of San Francisco Bay without spelling the camel.

Raynor, owner of John, editor of the Century Magazine, caused a furor of interest by attacking Secretary Fisher's authority to issue a permit. Mr. Fisher responded that the authority of the department was ample.

NO DANGER FROM SEWAGE.

G. C. Whipple of New York, who has made an analysis of water supply from the Sacramento, the Pecos, Colorado and that they were virtually no danger to the city from contamination of sewage disposal in the Hetch-Hetchy, and declared protracted storage of water, as in the United Brotherhood of Carpenters.

MOTHER OF TRIPLETS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Nov. 25.—Mrs. A. V. Grantout of Maywood, a suburb, is attracting the attention of medical men on account of a remarkable series of births. Mrs. Grantout is the mother of triplets, all boys, the first of which was born on Thursday night, forty-eight hours before the other two came into the world. The mother weighs about 400 pounds.

Hetch-Hetchy was practically as efficient as filtration. He admitted, however, that some time between now and the year 2000 the Hetch-Hetchy water would have to be filtered.

"I believe," he said, "that eventually all sources of city water supply will be filtered."

Much of the discussion during the afternoon was regarding the regulations that might be necessary for sanitary protection of the watershed. Secretary Fisher asked Mayor Rolph if, in view of Mr. Taft's statement, the city of San Francisco should feel satisfied to have no regulations to the sewage and bathing at the source of the metropolitan water project. The Mayor said the city would be satisfied with whatever regulation the Secretary of the Interior deemed best to issue.

Mayor Rolph read a number of messages showing the co-operation of the city of Alameda and other smaller communities in the water supply plant.

The hearing will be resumed tomorrow.

EAST ORIENTAL.

LIGHT FROM THE EAST ON THE LIVING ISSUES.

[BY WIRELESS LINE TO THE TIMES.]

N EW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Nov. 25.—[Special Dispatch.] The following editorial comments on topics of the hour are printed in eastern newspapers:

NOT FOR PRIVATE GENEROSITY, CAPITALIZING PRESTIGE.

(New York World, Nov. 25.) The world heartily agrees with Mr. Carnegie that the nation of the United States should be able "to spend the latter part of their lives devoting their unique knowledge gained of public affairs to the public good, free from pecuniary care." But this is a matter of public duty, not of private generosity.

Most Presidents of the United States have been poor men when they were elected to office. Few of them have been rich men when they left office. A large number of them have been compelled to work to support themselves and their families after their retirement. There is no disgrace in working but it is unfortunate that the majority of the United States is in a peculiar position so far as money making is concerned.

It is inevitable that he must capitalize the honor and prestige of his office and that is something that the nation itself should seek to prevent.

PENNANTS FOR EX-PRESIDENTS, DUTY OF THE NATION.

(Philadelphia Press, Nov. 25.) Mr. Carnegie's proposal to pension ex-Presidents and widows of Presidents will serve a good purpose if it brings home to Congress the duty of the nation to the high office of President. The United States ought not to be compelled to hustle for his living in their old age. The pitiable experience of Gen. Grant and "Grant and Ward" venture should have taught this lesson at that time.

Mr. Carnegie rightly anticipates that the administration will eventually perform its duty in this matter as he proposed pensions are to run until only others are provided by the country at large had hoped that their party was rid of this yowling团委 of Pennsylvania politics, whose Pitt-

LETHAL PROGRESS MADE IN PROCEEDINGS AGAINST ALLEGED WOMAN POISONER IN MISSOURI COURT.

DR. F. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SELDALIA (Mo.) Nov. 25.—Little progress was made today in the trial of Mrs. Fanny Ellen Leah, charged with the murder of Mrs. Elizabeth Quaintance at Greenridge, Mo. Court was in session only two hours after the work of selecting a jury was begun. The trial, which is to be held in October, will be delayed for a few months from which the twelve jurors will be chosen, was drawn from the special venire of seventy-two. It is believed that the jury will be completed and the introduction of evidence will begin late tomorrow.

That the trial will be brief was indicated by the announcement that the State will call only three witnesses.

The most important State witness probably will be Fisher Quaintance, brother-in-law of the woman the defendant is accused of having poisoned while she lived in the Quaintance home in 1904. The other two State witnesses will be Greenridge physicians who attended Mrs. Quaintance when she was ill.

It is believed that the jury will be seated at 10 o'clock this morning.

When the trial begins, the defense will be represented by Governor of Missouri, who has been retained by the defense.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Talk about steam rollers, the women in control of the National Women's Suffrage Association have nothing whatever to learn from the men.

The election of officers at this morning's session showed that the "Male" desired by those who have for several years had official charge of the association's interests went through almost unbroken, although there have been some anxious nights. The male insurgent element has been but has succeeded in reducing majorities but not in electing any candidates. The total number of ballots cast was 421. Dr. Anna Shaw received for president, 291; Miss Jane Adams, first vice-president, 416; and vice-president, 110; Mrs. Mary Ware Dennett, Boston, corresponding secretary, 229; Mrs. Susan W. Fitzgerald, Boston, recording secretary, 229; Mrs. Stanley McCormick, Chicago, treasurer, 214; Mrs. Anna Le Ladislaw, New York, first auditor, 229; Mrs. Joseph W. Bowen, Chicago, 229. All but Mrs. Bowen and Miss Whitney were re-elected to the board.

LIKES DIRECT PRIMARY.
Nominations are made by secret ballot and no ballot boxes are allowed so the election is robbed of most of its terrors and it gives a perfect illustration of the direct primary. Although the balloting continued all day, there was time while votes were being counted to hear the news of the Ohio election, from which it was learned that 69,000 more votes had been cast in favor of woman suffrage than had ever been cast before and a larger gain in any other State. The exact prospect for an amendment in Oklahoma was set up by the national association urged to join in the campaign.

There were twenty votes cast for Miss Laura Clay of Kentucky, for whom she had run, and for Misses W. McCollough of Illinois and eleven for Miss Jane Adams.

A determined opposition to the election of Reproductive B. Breckinridge, of Michigan, offered return votes from seventy-nine counties giving suffrage a majority of 12,544. The remaining four counties yet to be heard from, officially, gave a majority of 12,222 against the amendment.

INT DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES]
NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE
TIMES, Nov. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Andrew Carnegie was 77 years old today. He took cognizance of the fact that another year has passed over his head in the usual way, he discharged important business in the morning and reluctantly but good-humoredly consented to be interviewed by the reporters in the afternoon. In the evening he dined at home with intimate friends as his guests. His few spare moments, such as were not consumed in drinking coffee with callers, were given over to reading of many congratulatory telegrams. The ironmaster did not in the main, depart from his custom of not proceeding with new policies but rather Dr. Shaw believed that he would like nothing better than to be a reporter, but that no editor would have him.

Carnegie nearly gave out a statement about his new venture yesterday. He had it written in his library this afternoon, but declared that he must look over it a little longer by himself. He may give it out tomorrow night. He said that he had once told the pensioners ex-Presidents to Theodore Roosevelt when the colonel was in the White House, but the suggestion was emphatically frowned upon.

There were eight guests at dinner in the evening. The meal in the big dining-room was played during the meal, and later there was some singing as well.

THROWS LIGHT ON COMBINE.

Head of Case Threshing Machine Company Testifies as to Harvester Company Absorption.

CHICAGO, Nov. 25.—Fred Robinson, vice-president and general manager of the Case Threshing Machine Company of Racine, Wis., a $4,600,000 corporation, was the principal witness today for the government in the suit for the dissolution of the International Harvester Company. He was at one time a member of the Milwaukee Harvester Company, a concern absorbed by the International in 1902.

Profits of the Milwaukee company, according to the witness, who negotiated the option on the property to J. P. Morgan and George W. Perkins, averaged $500,000 a year for the two years before the acquisition of the property by the combination formed in 1902.

The sale of the Milwaukee Harvester Company, according to the witness, was made through P. D. Middlekauf to Perkins and Morgan.

"The Milwaukee company was purchased for the International Harvester combination for approximately $500,000 a year for the two years before the acquisition of the property by the combination formed in 1902."

Another thing that embarrassed the defense and helped to bring along was the rumor that was traced to a close friend of Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont to the effect that Mrs. Belmont had said she was through with suffrage and peace again would she contribute or not to the cause.

This statement was given credence in almost all quarters, the effect being that even the friends of Mrs. Belmont deserted her in her hour of need.

BY CARL AND A. E. TO THE TIMES]
BERLIN, Nov. 25.—The German Foreign Office has not deviated from its previous attitude of confidence that an amicable settlement of the Austro-Serbian controversy will be reached.

The Nord Deutsche Almanach Zeitung, in an inspired note, denies today that the alarmist reports which have been in circulation on the course that the position taken four days ago by Russia to the intervention of Serbia's demand for an Adriatic port have been true.

The powers, the note says, have agreed not to anticipate the general settlement of the Balkan problem by taking an individual stand on special questions.

The Nord Deutsche also denies that Austria has mobilized five army corps and adds that the report is untrue that an Austrian ultimatum to Serbia may be expected shortly.

TUESDAY MORNING.

McNamara's
Shows Hand
of Defense.Mr Discloses It in Examina-* *tion of McManigal.Details of Plot to Destroy Panama Canal Locks.Amputation of Los Angeles is McNamara's Mind.I. A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES]
INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 25.—The admission that the McNamara and Orritz E. McManigal were responsible for explosions at the ironworkers' union explosives depot and President Frank M. Miller knew nothing of the $10,000 received from the union fund for non-union property was made in the cross-examination of McManigal at the dynamite conspiracy trial today.

More being turned over by the defense, McManigal had told of how he and the McNamara had plotted of blowing up the Panama Canal and how H. McNamara was to "run away to Los Angeles and 'wipe that city to the map'" by a series of explosions and how they were prevented from carrying out these plots by their arrival in April, 1911.

It was also related that after his and H. B.'s arrest in Detroit and on trial in Chicago, James B. offered to allow them to escape, telling Burns "If you don't get it, Charlie Brown will."

THE CROSS-EXAMINATION.

Under Kern, for the defense, examined McManigal.

"Do you pay you received from the union your motive in causing these explosions?" asked Senator Kern.

"It was not money. Herbert R. Kern, when he first started me into this, he said, 'I want you to make it if I did not do it, so it would be me from getting work.' Then he prompted by a foolish notion it was for the good of the ironworkers' union. My mind was influenced by the idea that it would help the union."

McManigal admitted he had been paid three times, twice for largeness and once for disloyalty conduct. "I am a man," he said, "and I was blown up when you and I were hunting in the woods because you may he admitted to that he deliberately killed the ironworkers' union. He said he knew he would kill me when he put the bomb in that Building, and yet you continued to associate with him?"

A. F. A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES]

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 25.—When J. McNamara, secretary of the union, and "wholesale explosions," including the blowing up of Los Angeles, he was afraid the "executives" would cut off his allowance.

"Now, you say McNamara, in order to get more money, proposed to me by killing the ironworkers' union in Indianapolis and yet the one in Los Angeles, and yet you left company with these men and the murder?"

McManigal told in detail how much he paid for each job.

"Then you caused the explosion in the ironworks in Los Angeles, December 1910, for McNamara, now at $10,000, which included my expenses," interrupted Mr. Maguire.

THAIAGO'S NEIGHBOR.

"Maguire testified she was married in October, 1910, the month after the ironworks explosion, at the home of Mrs. McManigal she arranged to have her uncle, Marion Sharp, of Toledo, Ohio, to take care of the children in the care of a widow, a labor union official.

He said she collected from various financial sources, $10,000 to be paid to Mrs. McManigal.

McManigal on one occasion saw McManigal: "I'll give you $25 if you're going on."

OTHER WITNESSES.

Sharp told of the hunting in Coon Valley, Wis., saying McManigal was the leader of the party.

W. Caldwell, member of a contractors' association, said after explosion at Columbus, Ind., H. B. Hockin visited him under construction at Tulsa, Okla.

Hockin had enough of him to make him leave at Omaha, and I wouldn't do the job," said Caldwell.

He replied that he would get the job. The work later was done.

K. Payne, the business manager, had told us we would do the job in Omaha, he did not and the work was not done.

H. B. Hockin, a police official said that when he exploded in the tower building there were nine workers in a nearby staircase.

He also testified concerning explosions" which the McManigals allowed to have occurred, but which were prevented by the dynamiters of Indianapolis.

CONTEMPLATION.

McManigal contemplated as follows: "I would blow up the locks of the Panhandle in Pittsburg, Pa., and blow up a building in Pittsburgh, and blow up a sleeping car to the ironworkers' union because it is a perfect blood bath."

He also stated he had吹破了the inflammation and swelling subsides, the pain and soreness is relieved.

LICENSED DRINKERS?

Saloonist Suggests Shoe Ought to Be Placed on Other Foot—Complaints of Stoop-pigeons.

Why not license drinkers of liquor, as we do hunters, dogs and persons about to marry?

This will give the City Council an opportunity to show its indifference that has characterized its legislation these many days. The suggestion comes from a saloonist whose license was recently taken away because he sold liquor to a minor.

The plan is to sell the drinking privilege for $2 or $5 or more a year and to give every man a license, which he would be required to present at the bar whenever his thirst urged. Each saloonist would have to pay a license fee, and other fees, not to mention. Beneficial measurements might appear on the license for the protection of the man in the white apron.

The black-list could be done away with and all efforts of "hand-up" saloonists would be all eliminated, the sponsor says. He complains bitterly that the Police Commission has been sending out as stoop-pigeons 18-year-old youths who look 22, and who have been readily served by even the most discriminating barkeepers.

SINGLES REBUKE HIM.

Credit Driver of Grocery Wagon Sharply Chided by Operatic Star for Beating His Horse.

Crusade to animals received a sharp rebuke yesterday at the hands of Alice Nielsen, the operatic star. On her way to visit the Auditorium she saw a horse and wagon starting up the hill on the Olive-street side. A young man sat on the seat, beating the animal with all his might.

As the machine in which Miss Nielsen was riding drew abreast she saw that the horse was bleeding from the mouth and sides. She stopped the machine, which promptly denounced the youth, who was delivering groceries for a local firm.

Farther than that, she threatened him with arrest and on arriving at the Alexandria called up the police and informed them of what had occurred.

At midnight Sunday the cough of a charming young woman with a severe cold roused the chivalrous instinct of a fierce highwayman, armed to the teeth, above the desire for gold and jewels, and started a romance that harks back to feudal times when

Anxious Eastern Relatives Turn to

California to Seek Missing Loved

Ones, and Others.

Two miners who came to California two years ago from Mississippi, a husband who deserted wife and three children in Newark, N. J., and a son for whom an aged mother says she gave up her life to care for him, by Central Station detectives in compliance with requests in letters yesterday received by the Mayor and the Chief.

Eileen Lallar, No. 2209 Bell Avenue, Cypress Park, Miss., sends information relative to the whereabouts of uncles, Henry and Floyd Dodds. She says they came to this State twenty years ago. Where in California they are to be located the woman has no idea.

The writer says that she recently ascertained he is in Los Angeles.

Mr. H. J. Cummings, No. 181 Chittenden Street, Akron, Ohio, seeks information regarding her son, Ralph Cummings.

She enclosed a note to her boy in which she says: "I don't know how to live from day to day thinking about you."

Miss Myrtle Kane,

Heroine of an experience with few parallels in the history of holdups. She was halted on the street at midnight Sunday by a bandit armed to the teeth. When the man learned that she was ill, however, he escorted her home and is now daily conferring various small attentions upon her.

knighthood was in flower for a worthy comparison.

Last Sunday night Miss Myrtle Kane, an attractive maid of 26, was walking to her residence, the Estero-brooke Apartments, No. 810 Beacon Street. For several days Miss Kane had suffered from a sore throat and cold.

As she reached the corner of Ninth and Beacon streets she stopped for a moment to recover her breath after walking up the hill.

She was a tall, big-boned, unshaven man, about 30 years old, put a 44-caliber revolver in his hip pocket and a long knife inside his coat, and slunk out of his abiding place into the darkness. At 11:45 p.m. we find him shuffling along Ninth street near Beacon.

SHIES'S FIELD UP.

After Miss Kane had coughed several times in an effort to clear her throat, she started over Beacon street toward her home. As she stepped to the curbing on the opposite side of the street in the dark shadows of several big houses, she stepped from behind a tree and in a rough voice said: "Hands up!" at the same time leveling a big revolver at her head. Instead of throwing up her hands the sick girl stood stockstill and said nothing. "Hands up or I'll shoot."

"I haven't any money," said the girl in husky and almost inaudible tones; "I won't do you any good to shoot."

WAITRESS REFUSES TO DISCUSS EDDIE LUNCHEON.

Goes Before Grand Jury to Tell of Conversation She Overheard, Before Lloyd's Arrest, But Is Mute Afterward—Quondam Mayor's Secretary Silent.

George Baker Anderson, former secretary to Mayor Alexander, is said to have refused to testify on the ground it might incriminate him when called before the county grand jury yesterday. Lewis R. Works, another witness, came to the grand jury in the absence of Attorney E. C. Flemming, stated that such was his advice to Anderson.

Fred M. C. Choate, formerly a deployee of Earl, was before the grand jury for a short time. He was acquainted with Cecil Nicholson, and is supposed to know something about Nicholson's motive for wishing to get the Eddie witness into disrepute.

Miss Grace Cavalieri, waitress in a Broadway cafe, was called yesterday. She is said to have waited on Eddie and several of his friends at a luncheon given the day prior to Lloyd's arraignment.

Though the girl positively refused to talk outside the grand jury room, it is believed she told of the scattered hints and accusations she overheard, which seemed to relate to some plan to discredit one of the witnesses against Eddie.

City Auditor Myers was called as a witness. It is said, to testify as to the good name of Lloyd.

Mayor Alexander was in the grand jury room for a few minutes in the morning. He refused to discuss the reason for his appearance. It is believed he was a character witness for Lloyd, and also told how leaders of the Good Government Organization demanded that he retain Anderson and Choate in office.

Queenie Mack Nicholson is said to have informed the grand jury that uty in the City Prosecutor's office, will probably take a similar course when he appears before the grand jury today to explain his connection with the alleged plot to discredit E. W. Lloyd, a witness against Guy Eddie, proposed moral censor.

H. W. Brundage, managing editor of a twilight paper, was the last witness of the afternoon session. He declined to discuss his evidence before the inquisitorial body. It is presumed he has been asked whether or not he knew of the plan to discredit Lloyd on a charge of alleged extortion prior to the night that Cecil Nicholson handed Lloyd a marked $20 gold piece.

Deputy District Attorneys Blair and Shanner, hastened the trial of the witnesses yesterday with a view to concluding the case today. Neither would give any intimation as to the probable result of the inquiry. Capt. Fredericks declared the whole matter is in the hands of the grand jury, and that he had told his deputies to refrain from advice or suggestion.

Indicative of the close scrutiny that Foreman Hubbard and his associates are giving to the investigation, was the summoning of Reynold Blight, expert who took it on himself to raise what was known as the "Eddie Defense Fund."

It is believed Blight was compelled to tell how much money was contributed and who are the subscribers. He was not present yesterday.

Lewis Works declared before entering the grand jury room that he was fully prepared to tell all he knew about the proceedings leading up to Lloyd's arraignment. He did not say the plan was "ethical," he stated as a lawyer he believed Anderson and Choate were legally justified in taking the measures they did to involve Lloyd in an apparent act of extortion.

When he entered the grand jury room he declined to talk.

Another witness was Albert Lee Stephens, who has been connected with the Eddie defense. He evidently had little to say, for he was not in the grand jury room more than five minutes.

Louis Duni, who has served subpoenas for the witness wanted by the grand jury, reported yesterday he could not find Paul M. Powell, an employee of E. T. Earl, who is reported to have had important conversations with Anderson and Choate. Duni said that according to his information, Powell is in San Francisco. Deputy District Attorney Shannon said if necessary the subpoena can be served in the next big city on the western coast, back home. This course will not be followed, in all probability, as Powell is not regarded as an important witness.

STRIKE THIEVES' TRAIL

Police Hope Soon to Capture Authors of Gigantic Rooming-house Theft from Two Swits.

Central Station detectives announced yesterday that there is a possibility that the犯人 may be made to pay for the rooming house sneak thief job of last week in which three Italians are suspected of stealing $15,000 in gold and currency from John and James Bolloni, Swiss-Italians.

The men suspected of the robbery, the largest of its kind in the criminal annals of the Los Angeles police department, are Frank Pietro, alias Frank Morris, 25 or 30 years old, E. Calle, 26, 28 years of age, and Pitti Gino, 25 years old.

It was learned yesterday that a man answering the description of Pietro left Los Angeles the day following the stealing of the money, for his former Italian home by way of Chicago. As far as is known, the other two men have not left the city. There is a possibility that they may be in hiding in Los Angeles, waiting an opportunity to escape.

DAILY BEAUTY HINT: By all means put yourself in the hands of a beauty specialist if you can do so; if not, or between times, always treat yourself to massage. While you must not expect to wipe off wrinkles and years overnight, it is true that if you persevere in rubbing the wrinkles out, day after day, they will eventually stay wiped out—obliterated, and that will diminish the appearance of age.

BOARD ADVISES BUT ACTS NOT.

PUTS SMOKING ORDINANCE UP TO CITY COUNCIL

Gives Eight Reasons Why Tobacco Should Not Be Burned on Street Cars—Says Fresh Air, Self Respect, and Pride in City's Progressiveness Must Be Maintained.

The City Council will have to decide the question of prohibition of smoking on street cars. The Board of Public Utilities, finding itself not in a position to enforce a rule on its own initiative, has passed its recommendation to the Council.

With a vote of two to one the board report was sent up to the Council yesterday. President Fouquier would not vote for absolute prohibition of smoking, but was willing to limit the smoking hours from midnight to 8 o'clock in the morning. The others would not accept this compromise.

The amendment as proposed by the Board of Public Utilities contains:

"It shall be unlawful for any person to smoke in any street or interurban car, to smoke any cigar, cigarette or pipe, or to smoke tobacco in any manner or form."

The statement of the board in behalf of the proposed amendment, and which will go before the Council to day, reads:

"Our reasons for making this recommendation may be stated as follows: A portion of our fellow-citizens find tobacco smoking offensive and many of them are sickened or nauseated by it, especially if it emanates from an ancient pipe, cigarette or pipe. This is also true of those men and women whose husbands, fathers and brothers do not smoke at home."

Second—Every citizen is entitled to pure air to breathe, just as he is entitled to water to drink and the obligation resting on all city officials is just as imperative to see that the railway officials supply the former as to see that the water companies furnish the latter. We would like to have the former for a day; why should we interfere with the former?"

Third—Three-fourths of all smokers voluntarily refrain from smoking when on street cars because they know it is offensive to a portion of their fellow-passengers. It is the remaining one-fourth who are not thus considerate that need to be restrained by such legislation.

Fourth—The railway officials have fortunately informed us that they will promptly co-operate in carrying out such an ordinance if enacted. This co-operation on their part will make our effort comparatively easy.

Fifth—This "no smoking" rule on street cars will help to bring the well-established custom and practice of many of the street railways of other cities in line with our ethics and standards.

Sixth—Philadelphia railways have for many years selected year.

The citizens of Kansas City voted for an overwhelming majority to prohibit smoking on cars. Portland, Or., as well as Portland, Me., do not permit smoking on cars. New York City, Brooklyn and Boston prohibit on elevated and subways; Chicago does likewise on some of her elevated roads. Nearly all other cities prohibit smoking on passenger-enter cars. On open cars many cities compel the smokers to the three rear seats.

Seventh—Our efforts to confine smoking to the front end of our cars have proven very unsatisfactory.

As a large portion of our railway patrons

now a portion of our cars are now of the pay-as-you-enter type,

where the smoker is compelled to enter through the rear and walk through its entire length to the front section.

He cannot entirely avoid contaminating the atmosphere en route and annoying other passengers.

The average smoker is also annoyed by being compelled to bring some other fellow's smoke when he himself is not smoking.

PARENTS WIN AGAIN.

The District Court of Appeal dismissed yesterday the writ sworn out by the Children's Home Society of California involving the custody of Myrtle A. Bewley, Judge Craig of the Superior Court having denied the custody of the child to the parents, Everett and Laura May Bewley, and the District Court refused to disturb that finding.

BAD FINANCE.
A Los Angeles woman procured a divorce from her husband because he destroyed one of her hats which cost $90. We would not say that this man was a bad husband but certainly he is a very poor financier.

POSSIBILITIES.
A man in Rome has invented wireless telephony. We are strong for it. There may be some embarrassment in taking a chance on having other people on our wireless wires, but the amount of telephone flirtation and visiting this will stop at worth the price and then some.

A BLESSING.
Meija is to take a long vacation. In her silence her golden notes will still echo through a world charmed by the sweetness of her voice. We sometimes think the children up in heaven must go about gathering the notes of the Meijas as the little people of the earth gather wild violets.

A MIRACLE.
The King of Bulgaria is said to have a chance of becoming Czar of the Balkan states. We think he has a better chance of not doing it. It would be a nice job for him and if he took it he might not be assassinated for a week, but if he tries to steal a home-run on the diamond on which his team is playing he will find the bases rather well protected.

THE GREAT WORK.
Brig. Gen. Dixy, chief of the engineering division of the United States Army, reported favorably on a big naval and irrigation project up Sacramento way a few days ago and he now favors the fullest development of the water facilities in Southern California. This irrigation game is one for gladii, and the best brawn and brain of the nation rushes into the play.

A HER OWN BANKER.
The plan of the State treasurer to sell the San Francisco harbor improvement bonds to individuals is excellent. The people who make investments of this kind have the satisfaction of boosting their own State and they have a better right to clip made-in-California coupons than anybody in New York or London.

A POSSIBLE PLAN.
A strange as it may seem, there is a man in Los Angeles who wants $100 without knowing how to get it. He wants to give it to a woman he cares about, and that is always a wonder. He decided that there is $100 worth of good in him if he only knew how to get it out. Since he did not, he offered his person to the Chief of Police to be set at any kind of work until he had earned $100 above his keep. Plenty of people are worth more, than they are able to get out of themselves, and there is no law except that of necessity which compels them to consult with or submit to any smirch, than themselves. Whether a man knows it or not, he is subservient to some other man just as far as he fails to apply the best rules he knows for living to the best purpose he sees in life.

BIG MAJORITY FOR PROTECTION.
Senator Burton of Ohio calls attention to the fact that the popular majority against tariff reduction was shown to be 1,000,000 in the election of November 5. That is, the combined vote for Taft and Roosevelt, both opposed to the Democratic theory or policy of tariff for revenue only, is 1,000,000 greater than the Wilson vote. Wilson polled considerably less votes in New York and in other States than did Bryan in 1908, showing that the election of Wilson is not due to any change of opinion as to the protective tariff, but to the breaking up of the Republican party by its many years' beneficiary, Roosevelt. Still, the free-trade party, (otherwise known as the tariff for revenue only party,) will go ahead with its destructive work and claim to be "saving the country."

SARAH'S SECRET OF SUCCESS.
Sarah Bernhardt has just concluded another successful season in London and her extraordinary vitality at high three score years and ten has naturally aroused wonder and admiration. Asked her secret, she assured her friends that she never allowed herself to become conservative. "I am always experimenting, always originating, seeking ever for change and improvement. Only that way can one keep young in spirit and energy."

And that is probably true—and as it is true of her so it must be true of nations. The United States of America are the foremost progressives in the world. We are never satisfied, always originating, always experimenting, always trying out new ways and means, new materials, new machinery. The Old World has scoffed at us for this same versatility and love of change. So far as we still, but in this firm resistance to the groove, the rut, the "what-was-good-enough-for-my-father-is-good-enough-for-me" attitude which makes us the wealthy, prosperous, happy and powerful nation we are.

"I am alive, I am young, I am happy" laughs the Divine Sarah in her old age. We, too, shall retain our youth and our happiness through the ages if only we can keep the god Tradition in his right place.

THE CRISIS OF THE WAR.
There will be no general European war. The dispatches from trans-Atlantic capitals are exciting, but inadequately based. They do not harmonize with each other. It is part of a big diplomatic game. With whom will the powers fight and what for? It is true that the eyes of European potentates are focused on the Danube and on Constantinople, but it is because the crisis of the Balkan war has arrived.

The extraordinary spectacle is presented of four Balkan Kings in the saddle, leading their respective armies to victory, and each anxious to obtain their share of territorial spoils when the Turk is driven from Europe. King George, the venerable constitutional monarch of Greece, is 67 years of age, brother of the King of Denmark, brother of the Dowager Queen of Great Britain, and married to the Grand Duchess Olga, daughter of the Grand Duke Constantine of Russia. His oldest son, Prince Constantine, is married to the sister of the present German Emperor. We may be sure that his interests will be carefully looked after. He made his triumphal entry into the old and historic Greek city of Thebes a few days ago and is now with his army in Southern Albania among people with Greek traditions and sympathies.

Nicholas I, the virile monarch of the sturdy little kingdom of Montenegro, has weathered the storms of '71 winters and is yet Hale and hearty and capable of active service. He has held the throne since 1860, and in 1897, on the occasion of celebrating the bicentenary of his dynasty, was presented by Queen Victoria with the Grand Cross of the Royal Victorian Order. His daughter, Princess Helen, is married to the Prince of Naples, heir to the throne of Italy. He is now with his troops in front of the fortified city of Scutari, which, with the vilayet of the same name, he hopes to add to his dominions.

Peter, King of Servia, is another monarch of ripe years and experience. His predecessors on the Servian throne have had troublous reigns and he succeeded to the crown by the almost unanimous choice of the people, only after the assassination of King Alexander and Queen Draga, in 1903. Since his accession the affairs of state have been tranquil and the country has been very prosperous. He was married in 1883 to the daughter of the King of Montenegro. He is now with his army near Monastir, one of the Turkish strongholds and a city of 45,000 inhabitants. From this point of vantage he hopes to march across Albania to Durazzo and give his inland kingdom a port on the Adriatic sea. This ambition of Servia, in which she seems to be backed up by Russia, is the principal cause bellum with Austria-Hungary. That power, together with Italy, now dominates the Adriatic and they do not wish to admit any interlopers.

The fourth King in this remarkable quartette of allied monarchs and warriors is Ferdinand, King of the united principalities of Bulgaria and Eastern Roumelia. He came from Saxe-Coburg and accepted the throne after the revolution of 1885 had made it vacant. He has ruled with vigor, uniting warring factions, and has the entire confidence of his people. He is the acknowledged leader of the Balkan uprising for the extermination of Moslem rule in Europe. His counsels prevail in the diplomatic courts and on the tented field. His chosen military leader, Gen. Michael Savoff, was made commander-in-chief of all the allied forces, securing unity of purpose and concert of action, and the brilliant five weeks' campaign of Gen. Savoff has made him the foremost figure in Europe. He has been characterized by a German paper as "the Molotov of the Balkans," and this is but an intimation of a federation of the Balkan states with Ferdinand proclaimed Emperor or Czar of the new Slavonic empire.

But it is said, and reiterated in recent dispatches, that Europe is to be plunged into a general war. Yet no adequate reason is assigned for such a senseless, bloody and costly conflict of the great powers. True, some of them are mobilizing their armies and moving them to strategic points, but their object is plain to one who reads between the lines. The time has come for determining the fate of Constantinople. The overambitious Bulgarian King is anxious to add its capture to his triumphs. The great powers desire to make that historic city, with its immense strategic importance, neutral territory, and they are making a show of military threats outside of the Balkan kingdoms to dampen the ardor of the Bulgarian King and make him acquiescent to an international agreement which will presently be diplomatically and peacefully arranged to the satisfaction of all parties—except Turkey. And the Moslem power will again become resigned to its fate and concentrate its feeble energies in Asiatic territory. There will be no general European war.

GOMPERS AND HIS DUPES.

N THE Pittsburgh ironmaster, in his efforts to use his large fortune for the interest of everybody in general, should have been careful to see that his benevolent projects hit nobody in particular. He has deserved well of the world for using his influence and his money to forward the cause of universal peace, to popularize reading, to simplify spelling and to aid astronomy. The trouble with many good men is that they do not know where to stop.

A cause is an abstract issue, libraries are impersonal, telescopes have no feeling, but United States Presidents cannot well be endowed in the rough-and-ready way employed with inanimate objects. They are personal, concrete and feelingly particular. They are men, not causes or institutions or telephones.

Misdirected zeal is a mistake sometimes hard to rectify. Generous impulses should consult Dr. Second Thought, a sober adviser. Though an ardent pensioner of ex-Presidents Mr. Carnegie might win for himself an immortal fame, it would be at the expense of the highest office in the land; it would be a humiliation for the richest nation in the world. One good may come of this airing of the pension question as applicable to the highest officer in control of national affairs, when his term expires. It may induce the people as a whole to make it impossible for any too anxious philanthropist to repeat such an offer, we had almost said affront.

Mr. Carnegie is discovering that not only

"Birds of a Feather."OH, SPARE HIS STOMACH!

BY ALMA WHITAKER.

Business men, look to your tummies! The Hygiene Congress is after them. Your diet is in jeopardy, your appetite under indictment.

Speaking at the congress a certain Dr. Olsen has attacked your lunches. "The business man," he declares, "eats a much too heavy meal in the middle of the day. Steaks, vegetables, beer, pie—these are the worst possible things for a busy man to eat."

And then he proceeds to lay down a menu for your delectation. Prepare for the worst. It appears that the pinnacle of perfection in the business man's luncheon can only be achieved with:

A glass of milk.

Two slices of bread and butter.

A sauce of stewed fruit.

Nuts.

You will observe that the list reeks with unadulterated innocence. Purity of mind and spirit shibbles forth from every item. I can see you, those of you who were to run over to the California or Jonathan Club, for instance, regarding it with the eye of world-wise, lofty admiration, absolutely devoid of vulgar passion.

But there is so very much that Dr. Olsen does not know. Ah, how much! Worthy man that he is, he builds up his whole argument upon a pitiful fallacy. He actually assumes that madam, your wife, or at the worst, your hired cook, stands ready to provide you with a hearty course dinner in the evening when your day's work is done. He even goes so far as to suggest that, if you eat so substantial a meal in the middle of the day, it will spoil your appetite for the beautiful meal that madam has prepared for you in the evening and thus wound her tender feelings. Such sublime faith calls forth much but administration.

How can we know that madam is wont to declare over the bridge table, "Well, let us have one more rubber. I can call at the delicatessen on the way home, and John has his principal meal in the middle of the day, anyway."

How can we realize that, unless we happen to have company, when we can, of course, show them what we can do, a half a pound of minced ham and a lettuce, with possibly the breakfast coffee warmed up, is all that John's modest appetite is expected to require when he gets home? Add this, then, to that milky-cum-sauerkraut mess. What an epicurean repast for the goose that lays the golden eggs!

Then, too, our Dr. Olsen presupposes the beefsteak luncheon in all business men. Think of the brutality of hurling such an accusation at the man who is paying off on the automobile on the installment plan and invariably expects a cigarette and a walk round to appease any abdominal anguish at the witching hour of noon. Nay, say, doctor—if steak, vegetables, dessert, cheese, a highball and a coffee liqueur come this man's way, deny him nought. Such ostentatious wealth abounds.

One can realize that, unless we happen to have company, when we can, of course, show them what we can do, a half a pound of minced ham and a lettuce, with possibly the breakfast coffee warmed up, is all that John's modest appetite is expected to require when he gets home? Add this, then, to that milky-cum-sauerkraut mess. What an epicurean repast for the goose that lays the golden eggs!

The Times suggests the establishment of a Federal prison on one of the Aleutian Islands. There, far from the madding crowd, Gompers and Mitchell could meditate on the unliability of American policies and compose fresh dictates against the loathsome capitalists who insist on conducting their own business in their own way without directions from "labor leaders."

The waters around the islands abound with fish. Fish contains phosphorus, and phosphorus is a brain food. Gompers needs a brain food. He might commence with a small whale.

One can imagine, too, the supercilious disgust of the man of the "graded luncheon." A bona fide business man, right enough, with the more or less lawful reward thereof coming into the exchequer in somewhat spaghetti dollars. Five hundred today and nothing for three months.

"Other communal spirits, heirs that beat in unison as a result of confessions of murder and confederacies as to the best means of escape, are also there—kicking against 'long hours,' maximum limit to output, 'the crack of the bosses' lash,' the prison 'scale,' outrages of the capitalistic class, the 'tyrannical judge' and the story of guilt as told by the diphograph. The McNamaras are there, and ready to give their co-laborers most cordial welcome."

Valley Route Towns Are Keen For Road Race.

On July 4.

GREAT RACE IS ASSURED.

Bakersfield Mass Meeting Pledges Money.

Great Reception Awaits Car at Fresno.

Tetzlaff Finds Valley Route Very Fast.

BY BERT C. SMITH.

(With Tarzan on the Pathfinders.)

DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.

BAKERSFIELD, Nov. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Teddy Tetzlaff, in the 120-horse-power Fiat racer, drove seventeen miles in 15m. 20s. today, faster than an aeroplane could make the same distance, and at a swifter pace than an automobile has ever been driven over the country roads. Tetzlaff is choosing a route for the Los Angeles-San Francisco road race and when he reached a long, smooth stretch of the Mojave Desert, he stepped on the gas harder on the foot throttle and the racing speedster easily passed the tee-mile-an-hour mark. Slowing down at the end of the spur, Tetzlaff said, "This is the course. We could heat it along the valley route but there would be scarcely any danger of a collision as we would have plenty of room to pass each other. I think a race over the valley route would be better than the Vanderbilt and the Grand Prix put together. You bet I'd drive it again. The road would attract eastern drivers and would mean an entry list larger than from locomotor astasia.

LEAVING LOS ANGELES.

The Fiat left The Times office in Los Angeles at 8 o'clock this morning and was driven to San Fernando with an escort of automobiles. A. L. Westgaard, who is touring across the continent in a Pathfinder, met Tetzlaff at San Fernando and greeted the great driver. The drivers of the valley town then gathered about the car and offered to help in every possible way to boost the great road race. The men there agreed to raise a sum of money toward the large purse.

Arrived at San Fernando, the car was driven through the Newhall tunnel, which has been bored through the mountain over which Gen. Fremont and his soldiers marched when they crossed Fremont's Pass, before the opening of California. The towns of Newhall and Saugus were also visited and the big car was driven through the Mint Canyon, and on to Palmdale. From that point the car was sent out into the Mojave Desert to Wrightwood, and then over the Tehachapi Pass to the town on the Summit; after which the route blazed dropped down to Bakersfield.

WELCOME AT BAKERSFIELD.

W. E. Drury, a prominent citizen of Bakersfield, welcomed the autoists this afternoon and a meeting was arranged at Brower Hall. The Supervisors of Kern county granted permission for the cars to be set at top speed over these roads and the City Council Bakersfield took up the matter of a purse, which the city is to give. It was stated by several of the speakers that the purse will not be less than $5000.

"We will have the race through Bakersfield," said Drury tonight. "The men of Bakersfield must not allow this chance to slip. We need the stimulus that the great race will give us, and we should provide a purse that will be a large enough inducement to make certain that the cars will be run.

SPARKPLUG MCCOLSKY.

Understudies the Management of a New Fight Genius. He Finds It Difficult to Entertain the Boxing Public and His Heart Grows Sicker? "That's right," says Scissors O'Brien.

SPARKPLUG MCCOLSKY, the young boxer, has broken into the fight game.

In the wake, when he came to The Ring last night, was a nickname with a tin ear and a vacant look in the sides of his mouth where the look should have been.

"I've all heard of the famous 'O'Brien,'" said Spark-plug.

"Only we have; who is he?" asked the sporting editor.

"He is him—Scissors; he's the new Lightweight of Italy and Manager," said Spark-plug.

"A wonder that was almost out."

WHAT'S IN A NAME? "O'Brien," protested the boxer. "The O'Briens are all brothers—not from Italy."

"Yes," said Spark-plug earnestly. "I don't think I let him one his name, do you? I'd be a fine boxer if I had a name like him. I'm managing a fighter; not a manager."

The young boxer turned around and bounces over with dissatisfaction.

"I'm not a manager; I'm a boxer," he said. "We're right."

"So along have you gone—left him?" asked the sporting

CONSPIRACY OF FRIGHT.

"I tell you the truth: there's all of him," said Spark-plug with a leer.

"That's right," said Scissors O'Brien, feeling that something was wrong.

"I don't see no use Uncle Tom has to be here," said the sport reporter.

"He simply stared at the boxer that guy is certainly there with him isn't he?" said Spark-plug with a leer.

"If he isn't, I'll give him a thousand dollars to get him to leave," said the boxer.

"Kind, heaven, don't strike him dead," said Spark-plug, sardonically.

"Give him another chance. Maybe he never tried getting the newspapers excited."

EXCITING THE NEWSPAPERS.

"The first one I went to," said Spark-plug, "was this guy Davidson."

"I told him all about Scissors. As long as I live him, I'm going to let him have his way. I didn't hold back nothing."

That fellow took a lot of notes and I went around and bluffed him a diamond to be ready for him."

"When the paper come out I found a little item two lines long near the place in the paper where they tell the news of the boxer McKeon's being in better health. On the level, if that guy McKeon keeps on getting any better, it'll be dangerous to have him around. Every time I pick up a newspaper I hear where Hector is a little behind the race."

"Then I went around to Beanie Walker. That's the fellow with them neckwear effects. I handed him a line about how good Scissors is when he's right. This guy Beanie keeps right."

"I didn't get no fight," reported Spark-plug bitterly. "It hurt me so to tell me so, but he just doesn't care for nothing but the championship of the world."

VIEWING MCAREY.

"He's just crazy to win a fight," said Spark-plug savagely.

"He's back room at Greenway's and I saw how he'd go to the bar at the drop of a hat. He was a fighter in his whole life when he done me."

"That's right," said Scissors O'Brien.

"You got the fight?" said

"I didn't get no fight," reported Spark-plug bitterly.

"It hurt me so to tell me so, but he just doesn't care for nothing but the championship of the world."

"Well, what did he say?" asked the sport reporter.

"He'd give you a fight?" said Spark-plug.

Alice Nielsen,
The California songbird who will sing at the Auditorium tonight. Miss Nielsen won her first recognition in this State and is always seen at her best here because she feels at home.

ACTORS, especially singers, like to rise early, but "The Lark" waits not on art. So it happened that Alice Nielsen, fortified by a cup of English breakfast tea, was deposited, at the Alexandria, at an early hour this morning to meet a formidable company of interviewers and photographers.

Nothing could demonstrate the cultured and disposition of the artist better than the easy and smiling manner of her answers to a hundred questions, most of them singularly personal.

Miss Nielsen not only is young, but looks honest, because most people do not know that she began as a star at the age of five; even before, according to her mother's expert opinion.

Since an evening, eighteen years ago, which was the most important event in her artistic career, I had not had, until today, the privilege of hearing her sing a single measure.

To meet her again, on the train before breakfast, in the garish light of the morning, and being photographed, was certainly a test for her nerves.

Notwithstanding the terrible strain of several years of stage life, and constant study, Alice Nielsen retains the same youthful figure and face, a delightful magnetism of personal magnetism.

She has not been spoiled by success; she is the same sweet and whole, some little lady, who yet in her teens sang "Lucia" at the old Tivoli, in San Francisco.

On that evening of long ago, the then Mrs. Nottingham sat in a box, and heard the youthful Lucia, who very bravely sang her part in a very creditable manner. After the second act, dear old Barnaby requested to meet the little-gowned chorister girl who had been singing so sweetly.

That evening, yet accidental meeting of two great people, was the beginning of the gifted artist's career, and the beauty of it all is that the Metropolitan prima donna has always retained for her artistic guidance and personal affection, and Henry Clay Barnaby, one of our greatest comedians, and keen managers of light operas, still watches with parental interest the climbing of his young protege, though long retired from the stage and three score and twenty.

Alice Nielsen, born in Tennessee, is a Californian, as she was trained from infancy in San Francisco. She once said that her dad, heart, and business this actress had but one equal, in his long and varied experience, possibly Mary Garden.

Both of these distinguished women have had experiences somewhat similar, they have won their way upward through natural talents combined with constant and intelligent application.

American artists rarely, specially when gifted with unusual voices, are willing to work their way slowly up the ladder of operatic fame. They want to reach the roost at one jump but they find the top rung has been snipped.

Miss Nielsen began most humbly at the Wig-Wam, the first vaudeville house on the Coast. She entered the professional operatic ranks with the admirable organization, the Tivoli, that first gave a stock opera company to California. Discovered by Barnaby, she joined the Bostonians, the greatest traveling opera company, served her apprenticeship in the leading operatic centers, and finally graduated as one of the best prima donnas of the Boston Opera House and the Metropolitan.

For a young woman handsome, older and possessed of an excellent voice, there is nothing pyramidal about her rise to the suns. It is only one of the rare American instances of that long and arduous training, slow advance of the great European artists.

Miss Nielsen has a hobby, English opera, or operas given in English. Mention the subject to her and she will talk enthusiastically about it or if you do not, she surely will broach the subject.

As a matter of fact, except for those who are versed in Italian, French or German, it is a little ridiculous not to understand one word and to follow the action with a translation in hand and miss half the performance.

Tonight we can count on having a regular comic treat, coming to brush over the blues. It will not be in or lacking in quality either. Alice Nielsen is quite sufficient for an evening, but with Miss Jeska Swartz prima donna contract of the Boston Opera Company, Alberto Hassolla, lyric tenor, Rodolfi, Fernando, baritone, Luigi Tavechia, basso buffo, and Joe Mardones, basso chantante, with a large orchestra under the leadership of Cesare Chaldestini, assistant conductor of the Boston Opera Company, the evening will be worth while.

Among these well known stars of the Boston Opera Company appearing here for the first time there is a surprise in store.

A letter from San Francisco advised me that the unknown basso, Jose Mardones, a modest and shy Spanish singer, who has won the greatest honors in Spanish-America, the last three years, was recalled yesterday from a tour of the Americas, so exceptional was his work.

The "Secret of Susanna" is a delightful operatic comedy. It will be given tomorrow night at the conclusion of the elaborate programme with the evening's all-star cast and a superb orchestra.

I learned all this while Miss Nielsen was waiting for breakfast, answering with the same good-natured smile all kinds of questions and I acquired some special knowledge in the gentle art of garrulogy.

"Do you mind telling me how you keep your admirable complexion?" asked an interviewer. "I wonder if you follow my system. I eat a raw carrot in the morning and raw in the evening before retiring, to give my pink complexion to their use."

"Cold cream," answered Miss Nielsen, "and a rub with as big a chunk of ice as I can hold in my hand, morning and night, is the only complete answer to your question."

This is the information Miss Nielsen gave out yesterday about his catching up with the Southern League in sight, Hogan will have to get at least one more win over the team on good one anyway. This also means that he is figuring on some new pitchers and that some of the last year's staff will get the hook. Hogan is not worrying much about next year at this time, for he proposes to take the easy road easily after the holidays.

NEWS REPORTS FROM CORRESPONDENTS OF THE TIMES.

Pasadena. WILL ECLIPSE FORMER YEARS.

Pasadena Social Season
Promises to Be Brilliant.

Charity Ball to Dazzle With Its Magnificence.

Murder Done But Motive
Remains a Mystery.

PASADENA, Nov. 26.—A few more weeks will see Pasadena in the height of the winter social activities but a few of the society leaders of this city who passed the summer abroad, or in other parts of the country, have returned home; the hotels will soon all be open; and indications are that the coming winter will eclipse all previous winters in brilliance of social affairs.

Mrs. H. Page Warden, chairman of the committee that will make arrangements for the Charity Ball, has already taken full precedence over all other social functions of the winter, announced last night that a meeting will be held next week at which it will be determined whether to give the ball in the Maryland Hotel or the Hotel Green. Out-of-towners pertaining to the ball will also be determined then. The affair will probably be more elaborate this winter than ever before. A large number of visitors from eastern cities will dance at it.

This ball is given annually for the benefit of the Pasadena Children's Training School. Last Friday the directors of the Altadena Country Club will meet to determine what social events of the winter shall be given by that organization. Several proposed affairs have been under discussion but none has yet been decided on. There will probably be a ball at the clubhouse between Christmas and New Year's Day, and several dances will very likely follow later on in the year.

The first dance of the season of the Altadena Country Club will take place at the clubhouse next Wednesday evening. Elaborate plans are being made for the dance, and a dance at the clubhouse each month throughout the winter and spring. There will probably also be some special social functions under its auspices. Arrangements for these have not yet been made.

The Hotel Green is now open and the management expects that within another week there will be a large number of visitors from the east. Reservations have been made and arrangements have been made for automobile and private receptions and dinners effected by telegraph.

The Hotel Maryland is filling rapidly. In other places there have already begun, and arrangements are being made for several enjoyable affairs.

The Raymond Hotel will not open until December 15, but gold and silver decorations are in perfect form and arrangements have been made for elaborate entertainment of many prominent easterners who are expected to arrive by the holidays.

Avalon Crimley, the 15-year-old young man who was turned over to the police to his father last Sunday yesterday was formally charged with the murder of J. W. Fear, the Redlands junk dealer who was found dying with his throat cut at No. 182 North Broadway last Saturday night.

An inquest was held in the forenoon at the Glendale station of Reynolds & Van Nuys. The coroner's jury brought a verdict that the dead man had "met his death from a wound in the throat, inflicted by Arthur Crimley, with intent to kill and murder."

In the afternoon Crimley was taken from the City Jail and arraigned on a charge of murder before Justice of the Peace Dunham. His attorney, bearing him bond set for 10 o'clock tomorrow morning before Judge Dunham. After his arraignment the prisoner was taken to the County Jail in Los Angeles by Constable Austin.

Arthur Crimley, the brother of the defendant, who was locked up as a witness last Saturday night, but who was released the next day, has been placed under a $500 bond to appear as witness at the trial. He was supported by his father, Frank Crimley of China.

Mrs. Nellie E. Greaney, the woman who was in the house when the murder was committed, and who maintained that she left Fear and Avalon Crimley to go into the bath-room on returning from the former dyed and the latter gone, is held as a witness. Her bond was fixed by Judge Dunham at $500, in default of which she was taken to the County Jail.

Santa Monica.

SIR THOMAS SIPS TEA FROM FAIR BEACH HANDS.

SANTA MONICA, Nov. 25.—Lured to a beautiful pavilion created for Sir Thomas Lipton, that gentleman was beset with the smiles and outstretched hands of 400 women of the Santa Monica bay city. He graciously capitulated, to the throngs of pretty gowned daughters of Santa Monica, Ocean Park and Venice, and admitted that there were no fairer girls than those of this beach, and no climate like that of Santa Monica, notwithstanding all former and similar blarney spoken to thousands of pretty women in other parts of the globe.

Coming to the rescue of Sir Thomas' auto, Col. Duncan Nall, W. A. W. Melville and E. P. Benjamin being also in the party, the titled Irishman was escorted to the gaily decorated pavilion on the Ocean Front walk just north of the pier where the Chrysanthemum band was in residence, and struck up a patriotic air as the guest of honor and his friends approached.

On behalf of the Santa Monica Bay Women's Club, who numbered Sir Thomas' hostess, Mrs. F. E. Taft, the president of the club welcomed Sir Thomas Lipton, that gentleman was served by pretty maids and partook of punch, the like of which was never served on his yacht.

He greeted the Club members and hundreds of the townspopple, a kindly handclasp and a bright word for all.

On the second floor of the building K. P. Benjamin announced a little ceremony. Whereupon, with well-chosen phrases, Mrs. Taft, saying that:

POMONA MAN ARRESTED ON A BIGAMY CHARGE.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

POMONA, Nov. 25.—[Exclusive] the girl was committed to the State institution.

Saturday, when Baynes was at work, a letter came to him from wife No. 1, asking him to make ready to receive her as she was to be released from the storm school. The letter was opened by wife No. 2, who was dumbfounded and took it to her parents. They had Baynes arrested. The latter admits that he is a bigamist, but he claims he is the innocent party in the arrangement of his first wife to a penal institution unmade his first marriage. Baynes says he has no money to defend himself and will throw himself upon the mercy of the court. Wife No. 1 says that Baynes has never tried to hide the fact of his first marriage and believes he really thought he was free at the time he married her.

Baynes said the marriage to his wife No. 1 had been annulled when

Woman Prays for Death
Which Comes Promptly.

LONG BEACH, Nov. 25.—A week ago the Council decided upon a series of charter amendments to be proposed at a special election December 30, and at the same time turned down four other petitions for publication of the selected amendments. A new proceeding, but at tomorrow's meeting there will be presented an initiative petition signed by 15 per cent. of the voters, asking the Council to submit five additional amendments to the charter comprising the features rejected by Council. The amendments provide that no franchise shall be granted by the Mayor and Council unless it is approved by the people at the polls; that the City Attorney and assistant shall be paid salaries respectively of $2000 and $1800 per year and give their services exclusively to the city, and engage in no private practice; give the operator the right to fix rates on gas and electricity whenever they please by initiative, and repeals the twelve month limitation in the old charter so far as establishing franchises is concerned.

It is believed the investigation will be resumed as soon as the Lloyd matter is concluded.

that told to reporters and police authorities after his arrest.

He went into detail regarding his actions from the time he decided to secure a betterment of working conditions for employees of the Pacific Electric by threatening its bonds with dynamite, up to the time of his arrest. He went on to describe how he got one-fifth pound box of dynamite and part of another box at the Delcleville quarries by making a key to the door of the dynamite house. From this the racial covered his work on the internal machine and the attempted carrying out of his plan to force the police to summon Shoup into his presence, so he might try and bring about a demand in wages for railroad employees.

BEFORE GRAND JURY.

In order to secure additional information concerning possible confederates of Riedelbach, Dist.-Atty. Fredericks yesterday instituted an inquiry before the county grand jury.

Because of the limitations of the law he was only one witness. Samuel L. Brown, was allowed to give his testimony. He presumably told how he helped get the internal machine away from the dynamite and the mechanism in which he broke the mechanism on the pavement.

"I am inclined to believe that Riedelbach had at least one confederate," said Capt. Fredericks. "We mean to get to the bottom of the matter. It is possible that there is no plot back of his attempt. But the county authorities have determined to make a full investigation."

Deputy District Attorney Veitch, who was called to the grand jury room, declined to make any statement. He said he might have to handle the case and therefore was bound by his oath to preserve the secrecy of the grand jury.

It is believed the investigation will be resumed as soon as the Lloyd matter is concluded.

—BEFORE GRAND JURY.

LETTER FROM MOTHER.

Chief Sebastian yesterday received a letter from Mrs. Margaret Warr, No. 200 South Eighth Street, San Luis Obispo, mother of Riedelbach, which reads as follows:

"I thought I would drop you a few lines in regard to Carl Warr. I am very sorry to hear of his injuries. I am doing all I can to help him. I am also thankful to God and the two men who captured him for their bravery. We cannot thank them enough.

"I do not think that Carl is quite right in his mind. He has had three accidents. The first he got thrown from a horse and sustained a rupture. Then he went to work for the Pacific Lumber and Mill Company to learn a trade, at 12 years of age. After learning it, he got a room and he had his head down to the floor. There he had his three fingers cut off."

"Second, his stepfather kicked him. Last night he was going to bed, having been at work at about 14 years. As he was going through a culvert with his sheep he found a copper cap and examined it to see what it was. It was a bullet. He took it out and threw it off. Then he went with the sheep to Cash Valley. There he took his gun to get a cartridge. It accidentally went off and shot him in the hip and arm through the left shoulder and soon expired. Physicians called said that heart disease was the cause of death. "When I saw he did not get any better," said Mrs. Emesay, "I said, 'Lord, if you are going to take him, take him quickly and just after that.' Mr. Geers passed away."

Geers was a native of Illinois and 23 years of age. He leaves a tidy fortune, most of it in Long Beach. He was born in Ireland, and resides in the United States. He has been telegraphed for.

PECCULAR SITUATION.

The liquor question in Long Beach is developing some amusing features in church circles. The congregations of most of the churches are strongly arrayed against the liquor evil, and the members of one congregation, the members of one congregation, it was discovered that one of the members is selling a cook book as a side issue, and the first recipe in it is for first aid to the injured and calls for the distilling of whisky. "Friends will be greatly improved and soon expire," said the author.

Geers, however, did not improve, and soon expired. Physicians called said that heart disease was the cause of death. "When I saw he did not get any better," said Mrs. Emesay, "I said, 'Lord, if you are going to take him, take him quickly and just after that.' Mr. Geers passed away."

LONG PIPE LINE.

Forty-year leasehold rights were granted yesterday by the Board of Supervisors to the East Whittier Land and Water Company and the San Gabriel Valley Water Company, which are expected to begin at once the construction of the new system. The former company will lay pipe over territory extending 17,000 feet along the Workman-Mill road, from Sycamore Canyon to the old East Whittier ditch.

CHILD DRIVES AUTO.

A young son of R. E. Bond, with three small companions, was arrested today by Officer Allen on a charge of violating a section of the traffic ordinance, which prescribes a age limit of 12 years old. Later the father was arrested for permitting his son to drive the machine, but was released on his own recognizance to appear when wanted.

ASKS FOR BROTHER.

Chief of Police Wilson of San Diego has telephoned Central Station officials seeking information relative to the whereabouts of Sam Brown, late of Goldfield, supposed to be in the city. His sister, Mrs. Myrtle Brown, is said to be living in a San Diego hospital. She has expressed a wish to see her brother before she passes away. The detectives have no information regarding Brown.

SOCIAL WIRE TO THE TIMES:

RIVERSIDE, Nov. 25.—[Exclusive] Republican, Democratic and Moose Congressmen-elect met together at the Glenwood Inn tonight, in company with the more prominent citizens from San Joaquin and San Bernardino, for a series of hearings exploited the rôle of host, following the extensive automobile tour of orange belt, both in Riverside and Bernardino counties.

A Congressional group was composed of John Y. Barker, George S. Hartman and Congressman-elect Kettner of San Diego, George C. Moore, Charles P. of Sacramento, erstwhile Secretary of State, and Charles W. Bell of Fresno.

The progress of the party to improve conditions with respect to the orange belt is regarded by the orange growers as highly significant, as the visitors were not asked to make their platform pledges, but tacitly placed before the proposition that in adjusting the tariff, it is important that citrus fruits are an important as a revenue producer.

It was pointed out that the orange platform provides for a series of hearings upon necessities of the tariff upon oranges and lemons, and altogether to be as classified.

The visitors had no time to have been discussing the interests of the retaining of the present tariff on citrus fruits than was made and conference held by the Congressional party.

Our record was established in the Orange County Court today when plies of guilty to violation of the ordinance were paid. All but $100 of this was paid by druggists and others.

Withdrawal by S. T. Brooks of the Adams-Johnson Drug Company, of its liability in the case on which twice been tried by which in both instances he agreed, was quite the most feature of the hearings. The in this case was secured by men detectives from Los Angeles, whom the prejudice of the court was so strong as to vote for acquittal.

Tide, on the City Attorney's recommendation, Judge French issued a fine of $50, in view of the plea. There were three cases, however, against him and he was required to pay $100 on each count.

Heads of the Adams-Johnson company paid fines aggregating $100. All of the Banks, E. A. Roberts, Bell of the Banks Drug Company, and S. T. Brooks of the Adams-Johnson company was the only one entitled to a fine.

"We have had, up to date, ten carloads of soft-shelled walnuts shipped from various points throughout the state," says the Santa Ana letter. "There isn't a single one of them that will hold a candle to the Santa Ana walnuts."

For the year next year, shipped from the same locality as the car just received, you can enter our order for two or three cars of the 1913 crop and you can rest assured we will be able to fill your order.

The entire output of the Santa Ana association for this year has been sold, though not all of it has yet been delivered to the association packing house.

NEWS BRIEFS:

Today Charles Roll, the burglar captured Thursday night at the time his pal, Donald Coleman, was killed by Deputy Sheriff George C. Law, was positively identified by Mrs. H. M. Bent of No. 1022 Pacific street, Long Beach, as one of two men she saw watching her house the day it was burglarized about two weeks ago.

When identified, Roll admitted the killing and the subsequent murder of the jewelry and silverware were disposed of at a place near the corner of Third and San Pedro streets, Los Angeles. A gold watch, taken from Mrs. Bent's home, was found at a restaurant here, where it had been pawned for $2.75. Until identified today Roll had declared he had taken no part in any burglary until the evening of the killing.

So far as learned here, Manuel Bombala is to be hanged at San Quentin on Friday. Bombala murdered his brother-in-law, Apolonio Valles, near Los Angeles, on October 17. Reprieve was granted until November 22. No effort seems to have been made to save Bombala's life, as he was protégé of Lancaster for many years past, must vanish.

It is probable that the saler season, now opening, will find prices the highest in the history of the industry in this country. Last year opened with a price of 25 cents per dozen bunches, and the six cars already shipped this season brought 25 to 30 cents.

The county will ship about 5,000 carloads from the 1400 acres planted to saler. Last year's top price was 55 cents per bunch, which is record.

Manager Moore of the Celery Growers' Association says the prospects are the price will go even higher this year.

Today a preliminary examination of T. C. Catterlin was held in Justice Cox's court. Catterlin is charged with getting $25,000 worth of Los Angeles property from C. H. Newcomb of Buena Park under false pretenses.

He got $10,000 and is now back through a civil suit in Los Angeles. It is charged that Catterlin represented bonds of the Columbia River Orchards Company, for which Newcomb had to work $1 each, when but a matter of fact, they were worth $2 cents.

DISCS SUNS IN PAVEMENT.

Police Chief at Pomona Devises a Scheme to Forestall the Corner-Cutting Auto Drivers.

POMONA, Nov. 25.—The "Silent Traffic Squad," represented by the big discs painted on the pavement in the downtown districts, at the center of street intersections, has been of much assistance in helping the traffic police to keep automobile, motorcycle and other drivers of vehicles from cutting corners and thus increasing the chances for accidents on the business streets.

As it is now, the white discs indicate to vehicle drivers that they must pass outside and around the same in turns, in order to conform to the terms of the present city traffic ordinance. The disc signs were the idea of Chief of Police Tracy.

The latter, and his assistants are now giving due attention to the appearance of violators of the ordinance prohibiting the riding of bicycles on sidewalks about the city and as fast as arrests are made, the accused ones are brought before Police Judge Gallup, who sentences them for amounts of variable amounts, according to the seriousness of the violations.

BRAKES REFUSED TO WORK.

Baby Takes Wild Ride Down Mountain in Auto in Which Death Was Pilot.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.—OXNARD, Nov. 25.—[Exclusive] Sitting laughing in the back seat of an automobile while the horrified father and mother saw the brakes refuse to stop, the baby crawled over the console and the mother, who was driving, paid no heed.

Arrangements will probably soon be made by the City Council for the calling of a bond election to provide for the safety of children in the Antelope Valley. It is the occasion of the opening of Farmers' and Merchants' Bank of Lancaster, an institution long needed in the section and should prove the development of the town.

The mother made a desperate effort to grab the child from the car, but the wheels would not turn. The child was left in the car. The mother eventually alighted when the brakes gave way and the car started down grade with the baby in it.

Public Service: City Hall, Courts.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.
The Harbor Advisory Board decided yesterday to have the Water-district wharf at Wilmington built on force account and ordered the sale of buildings on Timme Point and the boulevard route, recently acquired through condemnation proceedings.

Heroic work of firemen at the recent burning of the St. George Hotel was praised by the Fire Commission yesterday, and two men were named for the roll of honor and will receive medals for bravery.

Fire-Chief Eley made recommendations to the Fire Commission yesterday for the simplification of the building ordinances so that human life may be protected in buildings that are designated as verifiable fire-traps.

Candidates who failed to pass the civil service examination for chief engineer for the Bureau of Fire Alarm and Police Telegraph, filed a demand yesterday that the City Council institute an investigation of the examination methods of the Civil Service Commission. Councilman Topham will urge the Council to take such action today.

Heartstrings vibrated to a minor chord in the Superior Court yesterday when a bright little girl of 7 was relinquished by her stepmother and adopted by neighbors. The stepmother was forced by poor health to give up the child, and there was an affecting scene.

At the City Hall.
BUILD WHARF ON FORCE ACCOUNT.

SUCH IS DECISION OF HARBOR ADVISORY BOARD.

Voice to Instruct Board of Public Works to Assemble Plan for Construction of Municipal Dock at Foot of Water Street, in Wili-

GHT of the actions taken by the Harbor-Advisory Board in its session yesterday was the decision to construct the Water-district wharf at Wilmington on force account. The board voted to pursue this policy, only Commissioner Chaffee of the Board of Public Works voting against the plan. The Board of Public Works will now proceed to assemble a plant, which must include a pile driver and tow boats. As many as several equipments that may be required will be obtained. It is proposed that the hydrants be placed at Hoover and Middlebury, in accordance with a petition of property owners of that district, who ask for a hose and reel and agree to organize a volunteer fire company if this is provided.

Sewer for Normal School.

The Fire Commission decided yesterday to recommend to the Public Service Commission the placing of a large number of new fire hydrants at various places in the southwestern part of the city. It is also recommended that the hydrants be placed near the open elevator shafts, by reason of the fact that they are verifiable fire-traps.

The special committee empowered to work with railroad officials in regard to the building of a rail-way between Fourth and Fourteenths streets, San Pedro, reported that three meetings have been held, and that a conference with the railroad officials has been arranged.

It was announced that a conference will be held with the railroad officials on November 28th.

The special committee empowered to work with railroad officials in regard to the building of a rail-way between Fourth and Fourteenths streets, San Pedro, reported that three meetings have been held, and that a conference with the railroad officials has been arranged.

It was announced that a conference will be held with the railroad officials on November 28th.

Conference on Tunnels.

The Board of Public Utilities will hold a conference with Chief Engineer of the Los Angeles Railway Corporation and Councilman E. C. Eley tomorrow morning on the subject of the construction of a railway tunnel on the east. The subject of strengthening the eastern end of the present tunnel will be the present condition of the tunnel will be taken up.

The trial of the suit was begun yesterday before Judge Murray and a jury. The Rancho El Encino originally consisted of 4466 acres and was subdivided into 3300 acres in 1878 judgment for parties holding the land was given and De la Osa is seeking to have this judgment declared null on the ground that he was not a party to the suit.

The plaintiff alleges his interest in the land is still vested in him, as at the time it was conveyed he was a minor. The company denies his allegations and claims title to the acre by right of Mrs. de la Osa's conveyance.

AMONG THE MISSING.

COURT CLEARS UP ESTATE.

Because there was $1000 worth of real estate in this county in his name and he had not been heard from for nine years, it was necessary to officially declare Harry G. Delashmatt dead in the Probate Court yesterday. Nine years ago Delashmatt, who was on a visit to his sister in New York, left the house and somewhere between that city and New Jersey, disappeared. He was never heard from again.

A proposal for letters of administration on his estate was filed by D. S. Hammick, who was nominated by the widow, Genevieve Delashmatt, administrator. The court, however, appointed a sister of Delashmatt to act. The widow lives in New York. The sisters and brothers of Delashmatt live in this city.

BENCH CHANGES.

BORDWELL WORKS IN CHAMBER.

Judge Bordwell from now until his term expires, January 1, will devote himself to working up submitted cases, several of which are important.

He has been acting as presiding judge, owing to the ill-health of Judge Conroy, who went over to Extra Sessions Court.

Judge Woods had not decided yesterday afternoon whether he will assume the duties of criminal work.

Judge McCormick was appointed as presiding judge yesterday.

Commencing tomorrow Judge McCormick will take a much-needed rest.

Four Extra Sessions judges are helping, namely, Murray, Childs, Cole and Dr. W. Wood.

Attorney Newman is trying a case by agreement of the lawyers.

GARBAGE QUESTION.

ATTACK ON CONSTITUTIONALITY.

Whether or not the garbage ordinance is constitutional was argued yesterday in Judge Conroy's court by Assistant City Attorney Cryer and Attorney Ladd, the latter representing J. G. de Turk. Ladd declared garbage is a valuable product for chickens and hogs; that the city has a right to remove it from the city and that they have been deprived of this privilege by the ordinance, which is alleged to have created a monopoly for the V. D. Reduction Co., which does not do business in the city.

Cryer held that the ordinance is valid and a proper exercise of the police power, it is a health measure and justified by the constitutional delegation of the power to the State to enact all such legal sanitary measures he asserted. Judge Conroy took the matter under submission.

WILL REOPEN CASE.

The suit of the Pico Lumber Company against T. E. Murray, which the District Court of Appeal yesterday declared was illegal because issued by the chief clerk instead of the presiding justice, will be reopened, according to statement yesterday of Justice Reeve. Reeve believes if the decision were allowed to stand it would cause chaos, because it would automatically invalidate all similar suits for the next two years, or since the office of chief clerk was established in office.

The amount of labor that would be required to do this is beyond the capacity of the presiding justice.

LOSS FOR ONE, GAIN FOR TWO.

ATTACK ON CONSTITUTIONALITY.

Whether or not the garbage ordinance is constitutional was argued yesterday in Judge Conroy's court by Assistant City Attorney Cryer and Attorney Ladd, the latter representing J. G. de Turk. D. Reduction Co., which does not do business in the city.

Cryer held that the ordinance is valid and a proper exercise of the police power, it is a health measure and justified by the constitutional delegation of the power to the State to enact all such legal sanitary measures he asserted. Judge Conroy took the matter under submission.
